

EXTINCT MAMMAL

Megatherium darwini

This giant sloth lived in South America during the Pleistocene epoch. It was a herbivore that fed on leaves and fruit. The skeleton shown here is a complete specimen, including the skull, ribcage, and hind legs. It is one of the largest fossilized mammals ever discovered.

